"Cy" Barger at Memphis.

The following is from the Courier-Journal, dated Memphis, Tenn., April 7:—Joseph Patrick Henry O'Flaherty's proud Louisville Colonels feel very much dejected this cool April evening. The direct cause of their dejection was "Cy" Barger, chief of the Chicaws, who by his clever mound work this afternoon at Russwood Park compelled his fellow citizens to accept the short end of an 8-to-7 score.

Until the Adair county, Kentucky, notable relieved Frazer in the fifth stanza of what proved to be the Corn-crackers' funeral. O'Flaherty's pets imagined they were going to take the third game of their series, but "Cy," after talking things over with himself, decided to disillusion his whilom diamond comrades. And dad blame he did with a sardonic smile on his pallid countenance. How that long, lithe lad laughed as Colonel after Colonel either went to his death by the popur route or by rolling an anaemic grounder to the infielders.

GAME BIRDS BEHIND "CY."

The "Columbia Centenarian" never faltered because the visitors had a two-run lead when he marched his frail pulchritude to the firing line, "Cy" treats as small a thing as a two-run lead as fiendishly as an enraged tigress would her bitterest foe. Until he entered the fight his un-chicks were visibly packed. The presence of the old warrior transformed them into game birds. The veteran's appearance on the hill seemed to throw consternation in the ranks of Knebelkamp's disciples of swat.

Although "Cy" had nothing except his glove, a dinky outcurve and ample gray matter, he stopped the invaders as still as death.

To be sure he permitted them to flirt with his slants when the flirtation would not increase their score. The instant they looked the least menacing on went the Barger brakes and back to the "country" went the angry Flahertys.

Friday, of course, didn't feel natural on Monday, consequently he wasn't able to hurl as effectively as he did the last time he fired Memphis, "how-ever he outthured left-handed Frazer while he was on the slab. When he passed the "buck" to Mies his mates had seven runs and nine hits to their credit, while the opposition tally sheet showed five markers and seven safeties.

Cy Barger's Memphis team has made a good start. It defeated Louisville in two practice games. Barger went into the last game on the sixth inning, winning out. They played three games, the first in favor of Louisville, two to nothing. In the other two games Memphis won, the score in the first 4 to 2, the second, 8 to 7. The manager of the Louisville team stated that every thing was favorable for Memphis winning the pennant this season.

If you want good roads, vote for the additional 20 cents road tax. The tax will run for five years and in that length of time the highways of the county could be put in good condition.

The fishing season is here and sports can be seen almost daily on the creek banks, angling for bass. It is said that Russell creek and Green river are very well stocked.

Messrs. R. T. Asa and Finis Baker, Amandaville, attended the Burdette mule sale, and bought fourteen.

Good roads will make marketing easy, and will save machinery. Every farmer should vote for the tax.

George Caldwell sold a 2 year old mare, and bought a 6 year old mare from Ez Bryant.

Good roads will build up the county. Bad ones will decrease its population.

An Unusual Sight.

Last Wednesday, about the noon hour, there was an unusual sight in the elements, attracting the attention of many Columbians. It was a ball of fire, about the size of a nail keg, and it was first observed passing over the cupulo of the court-house. It was closely watched, but after it passed over Russell & Co.'s store it was lost from view, and immediately after losing sight of it there was a loud explosion, jarring the windows in a number of homes in Columbia. In its trail it left a long white streak that looked very much like smoke. Various opinions have been advanced as to what it was, but it is generally believed to have been a Meteor. Just where it fell has not been revealed, but when it did fall it exploded and the rumbling noise, like thunder, was heard all over Adair county.

The Adair County News.
Columbia, Ky.

I herewith inclose a check for which send me the Adair County News one year. We cannot do without the News, it keeps us posted on all events back home which is worth the price of the paper to us. So let her come regardless of price.

Died in Louisville.

Lewis J. McIntosh, a young man who was in the Lindsey-Wilson up to the time the flu broke out, died at the home of his mother, in Louisville, at 3 p. m., on the 7th of this month. He died on his eighteenth birthday and a dinner had been prepared and friends invited. On the table was placed the birthday cake on which there were eighteen wax candles. Lewis could not walk to the dining-room and when every thing was ready he was started in a wheeled chair, but before he reached the table he laid his head back and died. He was a special favorite here, and much sorrow was felt in the Lindsey-Wilson when the news of his demise came. He was a manly little fellow and was very attractive.

No Improvement.

We learn that Eld. J. Q. Montgomery, a minister who is very much beloved in Adair county, the home of his nativity, continues in very poor health. He recently returned from Hot Springs, Ark., and when he reached his home in Liberty, he felt that he had been greatly improved. He has some kind of chronic trouble, and a friend informs The News that he is back in the same condition he was in before making the trip to the Springs. Adair county would be glad if he could strike a remedy that would bring permanent relief. The life of a man who is doing all the good he can should be spared to a good old age.

To Be Here.

The Liberty Loan Drive for Adair county will start the 21st of this month. The Government will send an airplane here and it is expected to arrive about the 21th. It will draw thousands of people to Columbia. See the big "ad" in this weeks paper. Evidently there will be people here from all the adjoining counties. The airplane will be here, the weather permitting.

Next Sunday will be Easter. Services will be held in the Christian church in the afternoon. The sermon will be preached by Eld. W. G. Montgomery, of Campbellsville. It is likely there will be thorough services in some of the other churches.

The best prospects for wheat ever known at this season of the year.

Good Bye to The Harris'.

The first of last week Mr. C. S. Harris, wife and children were busy, telling their numerous friends good bye, on the eve of their departure for West Point Miss. Only expressions of regret were heard from all corners on the leaving of this most excellent family. Mr. Harris, as we have heretofore said, has been prominent in the affairs of the county for more than thirty years, and as an enterprising man, he was classed as one of the most effective in the county, seldom failing in a project that was for the benefit of all the people. It will be hard to find a man who will measure up to his worth, and in both a business and social way he will be sadly missed. We doubt if any family heretofore ever left Adair county that brought more genuine sorrow to the hearts of people with whom it has been so long associated. It was here that all the Harris children were born and it was heart rendering to see the smaller ones bid their little associates farewell.

Mr. Harris' second son, Mr. W. E. Harris, and family, left the latter part of the week, and they too, will be greatly missed as it is a most interesting group of four, husband, wife and two little boys. These two families leave no enemies, and they took their departure with the best feelings for every body.

They will not be long in making friends in their Southern home, and may the God of love keep them in health, and may they prosper in all their undertaking is the wish of Adair county.

Escapes Death in War By Miracle.

When Swain Scalf went into action with the 1st Division in the Forest d'Argonne he was a battlelion runner, and he wrote back to his mother, Mrs. Nannie Scalf, 102 West Broadway: "I'm a runner, so you know what chance I have."

But Swain came out all right. He was hit in the temple by a machine-gun bullet, but by a miracle escaped with only a slight wound. This was on October 9, six days after he went into action. His family heard from him about Christmas and then not again until he landed in Hoboken March 24. Monday he arrived at Camp Zachary Taylor, ready to be discharged. Scalf, who is 23 years old, was inducted into the service April 29 last at Camp Zachary Taylor. He formerly was in business with his brother, Robert, with the Scalf Motor Transfer Company.—Louisville Times of April 8.

The subject of the above writing is a nephew of Mr. R. H. Price, who lives one mile from Columbia. His mother was before her marriage, Miss Nannie Price, born and reared in this place.

Crops of State in Fine Shape.

Frankfort, Ky., April 10—Commissioner of Agriculture Mat S. Cohen yesterday issued his first monthly crop report for 1919, as follows:

"Crop prospects for 1919 in Kentucky are especially bright. Soil conditions are good, more land will be in cultivation than last year, land values are advancing and the farm help supply is increasing. The latter, however, has not reached normal.

"Reports coming to this department give the wheat acreage originally sown at 108 per cent., as compared with 90 per cent sowing at this time last year, while condition is given at 102 per cent.

"Acreage of rye, originally sown is 90 per cent, which shows 5 per cent decrease from last year's acreage, while the condition shows at 85 per cent. Barley acreage originally sown is 85 per cent, with the condition of 94 per cent.

"The acreage of oats planned is 88 per cent, as compared with 83 per cent last year. Soil condition is given at 93 per cent.

"A large increase in acreage of Burley tobacco is indicated, the same being estimated at 113 per cent, as compared with the acreage of 99 per cent given at this time last year.

"Condition of beds is estimated at 94 per cent. Dark tobacco acreage shows at 106 per cent., as compared with 90 per cent, last year, and the condition of beds show at 97 per cent.

"The number of farm animals on hand, with conditions, follows:

Kind.	No. on hand.	Condition.
Horses.....	95	93
Mules.....	95	96
Dairy cattle.....	91	95
Feeding cattle.....	90	93
Hogs.....	98	94
Sheep.....	97	96

"All animals have done well and have come through the winter in exceptionally good shape.

"Condition of grasses is given at 92 per cent. Young clover is about out of danger and looking fine.

"Condition of fruit buds and trees is about normal, with no serious damage reported except in localities. Estimated conditions follow:

	Per cent
Apples.....	95
Peaches.....	94
Pears.....	92
Plums.....	93
Cherries.....	91

"It is too early to get out an accurate estimate on crops at this time, but the general prospects are good. Considerable plowing has been done. There is more of a demand for farm stock. The high price of feed has stimulated farmers to cultivate crops better, and the general prospects, both as to present conditions and general outlook, are especially fine."

Miss Mary Eloise Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Smith, of Campbellsville, and Mr. Henry L. Edrington, of the same city, were married in Louisville last week. The bride is a cousin of Mrs. Rollin Hurt, of Columbia, and has often visited here. The groom is connected with the Campbellsville Loose Leaf House and is prominent.

The man and woman of mystery were at the Paramount Theater last Friday and Saturday nights. Tie them with ropes and chains and also handcuff them, and in a twinkling they would throw off their shackles. Their performances attracted good crowds and they were pronounced exceedingly clever in their performances.

Mrs. Sam Breeding has purchased the J. A. English residence on Bomar Heights, and Mr. Sam Breeding purchased property in Campbellsville. The home they will remove to is undecided.

Several visitors attended a meeting of Columbia Lodge, No. 96, last Friday night. The third degree was conferred upon Mr. Lucien Bell.

In All the Battles.

John Hatfield, son of Mr. J. W. Hatfield, of the Neatsburg neighborhood, in this county, arrived in Columbia, Thursday night, having been honorably discharged from the army the 4th inst.

He was enlisted at this place, Oct. 2nd, 1917, and was in the heat of the battles in France, his discharge certifying that he was in the battles of Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, the Argonne Forest, and the battles around Verdun.

His last assignment in the army was in Co. D, 9th Machine Gun Division. He bears upon his person two gun shot wounds in his arm, and one in his shoulder. In the Argonne battle his battalion entered the engagement with 172 men, and on the 16th only sixteen privates remained—the others having been killed or disabled by wounds. He returns with a fine record of which his county is justly proud.

New Paper at Campbellsville.

The Taylor County Herald is the name of a new paper launched at Campbellville last week. It is published by a company, and Mr. Geo. F. Turner is its editor. We do not know Mr. Turner personally, but his writings show that he is a man of education, having a good idea of the newspaper business. He is said to be one among the best informed young men of Taylor county, and being thus equipped, there is nothing to hinder him from furnishing his readers an interesting paper weekly. We take it that Mr. Geo. Hancock, and excellent gentleman, who has considerable knowledge of the newspaper business, is one of the Company. We have entered the Herald on our exchange list.

NOTES ON ADAIR COUNTY.

No. 11.

TRAVELS OF NATHAN MONTGOMERY, JOHN BUTLER, WM. BUTLER AND OTHERS IN ADAIR COUNTY BEFORE ITS SETTLEMENT.

Upon one occasion when Montgomery and Capt. John Butler were doing duty as spies, they started from Logan's Fort, near the present site of Stanford, with the purpose of visiting the country, which is, now, in middle Tennessee, and when upon the waters of Casey's Creek, in Adair county, they killed a bear, which they skinned and dressed, and taking a small quantity of the meat for use, they sewed the remainder of it in the skin of the bear, which they hung in the boughs of a tree. Continuing their journey, the small portion of the meat of the bear, which they took with them, was, accidentally lost. This accident left them nothing for sustenance, except dried venison, unless, perchance, they should have the fortune of killing another bear. Butler was unwell and positively declared, that he could not continue the journey without bear meat, to sustain him. Montgomery persuaded him to continue forward, upon the suggestion, that they would soon have opportunity to kill another bear. When they arrived in what is now, Barren county, Butler rebelled and declared, that he could not live upon the "d-d dried venison," and would not proceed forward another step without bear meat, upon which to subsist. Montgomery was persuaded, but, Butler's determination was unalterable, and they turned upon their tracks with the purpose of proceeding, until they should kill a bear, or until they should arrive at the place where they had hung up the carcass of the bear. At the end of the day, however, they had arrived within three or four miles to the westward of the present site of Gradyville, in Adair county, where they prepared to bivouac for the night. While Montgomery was gathering some particles of dry wood for fuel, he heard the report of Butler's rifle, and apprehending, that he was beset by Indians, ran to his assistance. It was not an Indian, however, at which Butler had shot, but a bear, and the bear was wounded and fleeing. Butler did not take the time to reload his rifle, fearing that he would lose sight of the bear, but drew his knife and ran after the bear, at the same time shouting, loudly, for Montgomery. Montgomery attempted to discharge his rifle at the bear, but it flashed in the pan, after the manner of the ancient flint lock, and failed to discharge. Repriming his rifle as best he could, he followed Butler and the bear in a head long chase.

This continued until the bear was coming down the steep point of a ridge between two prongs of Big Creek, at the place where the two prongs come together, just above Gradyville, when Butler's pursuit became so close, that the bear turned to fight his pursuer, and standing upon its hind legs, made for Butler, when Montgomery shot and killed it. They skinned and dressed the carcass, and making a fire at the foot of the steep point near the waters of the creek, cooked a portion of the meat and, greedily, ate it, and spent the night there. They placed the whole of the ribs of one side of the bear, before the fire, so that it might cook during the night, for their morning meal. When they composed themselves for the night near the fire, which they reduced to the smallest quantity, so as to escape detection by the Indians, if any should chance to be in the neighborhood, Butler lay very close to the fire. Unwell and weary from the days tramp and his exertions in the pursuit of the bear, Butler very soon fell heavily asleep. In the middle of the night, Montgomery, who was sleeping lightly, awakened, seized his rifle, discharged it, and at the same time cried to Butler, that the Indians were upon them. Butler unable to cast off his heavy sleep, at once, and only partially awakened, mistook the ribs of the bear for a gun, seized the hot ribs of the bear, drew it beside his face, as though it was a rifle and muttered in an undertone. "Shoot, shoot, shoot." It was not until the roasted flesh had severely burned his cheek, that he was awakened sufficiently to realize, that the Indians were not near, and that the whole affair was only a prank of Montgomery. When the morning came, Butler loaded himself with a sufficiency of the meat to furnish sustenance for a number of days and declared his readiness to proceed on the proposed tour of spying upon the Indians. They then retraced their steps toward the country of Tennessee and completed the tour, without any further hindrance. In after years, at log rollings and other gatherings of the people, Montgomery would relate the circumstances of the prank played, by him, upon Butler, to the accompaniment of the loud roars of laughter by the crowds present. Our forefathers viewed the circumstances as worthy of great merriment. Butler never, however, joined in the merriment, which was indulged at his expense, but would dryly say, that it was a piece of bad judgment and recklessness upon the part of Montgomery, as the noise made by him upon the occasion was calculated to have brought the Indians upon them, and thus exposed them to unnecessary dangers.

A woman will pity a fallen sister. But forgive her?—I should say not!

And we would all have a piece of change if it was as easy to sell experience as it is to buy it.

SOLDIERS GIVEN PREFERENCE IN RECONSTRUCTION WORK

Dr. W. B. Beauchamp, Director General of Missionary Centenary, Says Methodist Church Will Use Soldiers In Rebuilding Program.

DR. W. B. BEAUCHAMP.

"Our first duty is to give the returning soldier a 'job,'" declared Dr. W. B. Beauchamp, Director-General of the Centenary Campaign of the M. E. Church, South, to a group of newspaper representatives. "The boys coming back will not be nearly so thrilled over flag-waving and shouts from the sidewalk as they will be to feel the grasp of a friendly hand and the words, 'We've got a job waiting for you, old fellow!' All over the country men are using their best wits and energies to find places for the boys who were willing to face death when the need came.

"The Methodist Church can do its part in giving work to the boys who are coming back, and we are going to do that part to the best of our ability. From May 18 to 25 we will conduct a drive for $115,000,000, of which our own church, the M. E. Church, South, will be responsible for $35,000,000. The success of this campaign will mean the immediate erection of churches and schools and the opening of 'jobs' of all kinds.

"Many of the returning boys may not be adjusted to the after-war conditions and therefore, will not, for a time, be able to get started in their trades. We will keep in constant touch with these conditions through our pastors and conference workers and will consider it a privilege to see to it that these men are given work. We will need bricklayers, carpenters, architects, business and professional assistance, and, where a boy has caught the vision of larger service—missionaries—we will need all of this help, and we will see to it that the soldier is given the chance at the job first."

A. R. Burnam and Edgar Blanton, of Richmond, have bought for a small sum the Hume distillery at Silver Creek

HOW CLEOPATRA'S NEEDLE WAS SAVED

New Process Invented to Preserve Surface of Monolith in Central Park.

HIEROGLYPHS OBLITERATED.

Rigors of Western Climate Caused Khedive's Gift to Disintegrate. Painting Ancient Obelisk With Special Preparation Stays—Rusted Portions Restored.

New Yorkers awoke one morning to find in their breakfast headlines the news that a zealous park employee had discovered signs of disintegration on the surface of the city's most treasured antique—Cleopatra's Needle. Photographs revealed that the monolith was peeling, large pieces of sandstone having fallen from the tall shaft, carrying with them part of the prized hieroglyphs.

London's twin sister of Cleopatra's Needle was reported as resting comfortably and endoringly on the banks of the Thames, and the rival port wondered whether a preparation would be found to stay the attacks of their harsher climate.

Such a preparation was soon forthcoming. A new paint combination as a preservative for stone was invented

THE OBELISK.

The Obelisk was presented to the City of New York by the Khedive of Egypt. Lieutenant Commander Goringe, U. S. N., after a three years' effort, obtained possession of it and moved it to its present position, at an expense of nearly $100,000. It was finally swung into position at noon, January 22, 1881.

The height of this monument from base to tip is 69 feet, 2 inches. The measurement of the base, square through its axis, is 7 feet, 8 1/2 inches. The entire weight of the monolith is 233 1/2 tons.

Since it was quarried near the torrid zone, it has traversed the entire length of Egypt, most of that of the Mediterranean Sea and the width of the Atlantic Ocean—a distance of 4,400 miles—proving itself a first rate traveler for one whose age has exceeded thirty-five centuries. In the course of its existence it has seen Pharaoh and his host going to their destruction in the Red Sea; Shishak marching to the Conquest of Jerusalem; Cambyse despoiling the land; Herodotus, Plato and other Greek students engaged in pursuit of Egyptian lore; Alexander the Great on his victorious expedition through the land of Goshen; six and a half centuries of Roman sovereignty and Christian struggle at Alexandria; all the long line of Moslem rulers—since Caliph Omar, and now, leaving altogether its native land, it stands looking upon the million dwellers in this metropolis, whose site was unknown to the Egyptian world at a time when the Obelisk had been in existence for two thousand years.

by Dr. William Kuckro, chemist of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Many years previous coating with paraffin had been tried, but the application had not entirely accomplished its purpose. The new painting process, however, proved a success. Disintegration was halted and the damaged parts restored. New York breathed easily again.

PAINT PROTECTION AND ITS ECONOMY.

The preservation of structural materials, which may be obtained through the application of paint, constitutes a most vital means of furthering the conservation of our natural resources. It is, moreover, the most economical method of sustaining the appearance and general upkeep of any community.

A structure coated with sheets of India rubber would not be as well protected from decay as a structure coated with a good oil paint. This is due to the fact that a sheet of rubber is not so durable or as waterproof as a thin dried film of paint. The latter material when applied dries to a continuous elastic film containing finely divided particles of metallic, wear resisting pigments. A square foot of such a film upon a wooden surface costs less than a penny, yet it will beautify and protect a dollar's worth of surface for many years. This is a low rate of insurance.

Dwellings, barns, outbuildings, sheds, posts, fences, stock enclosures, wagons, implements, windmills and other structures, whether of wood, iron or cement, should be preserved, through the use of paint, from rapid decay. High grade paint may be used successfully for all such purposes. Colored paints will be found the most serviceable, the coloring matter in the paint adding from two to three years to the life of the coating.

QUESTIONNAIRE

ANSWERS WHICH WILL SOLVE PERPLEXING PROBLEMS OF THIS RECONSTRUCTION ERA.

Query.—The government has launched an educational campaign to encourage building in order to put more men to work. Would not a similar movement to show how the old structures can be best and most economically repaired and made good as new also help?

Answer.—It is learned that such a plan is in effect and is linked directly with the Washington propaganda.

Industry must be turned back from works of war to the ways of peace. Employment must be found, in the meanwhile, for those whose occupation has been interrupted. There is no real surplus of labor in the United States. Rather there is a shortage, which would be acute if normal conditions were already restored, and one step towards restoring them will come with resumption of repair work.

Government restrictions, imposed by the necessities of the war program, have for many months past retarded or altogether prevented construction, improvement and repairs. These restrictions are now off, and there is scarcely a town, a city, a factory, a dwelling or a farm that does not reveal a crying need for prompt attention. Nothing delays such instant action except the feeling that prices are high for the time being and may be lower.

That is not logical. No matter what it costs to repair, the cost is less than the cost of neglect. No matter what the cost of paint, the wind and the weather will collect a higher bill in deterioration and decay.

Query.—What do you think of paint as an investment, aside from the appearance it lends? Does it really PAY to paint a house regularly, say, every three or four years?

Answer.—Good paint properly applied when needed is the main thing in making a house last long and well. A house worth $2,500 can be painted at a cost of about $125. In 60 years that house will need about 15 paintings, the total cost of which will be $1,875. Left without paint, such a house would fall into complete ruin in 30 years. So taking 60 years as a basis for our figures we find that with paint a home will last that time in good condition and will cost, plus paint, $4,375. Without paint the house would have to be rebuilt at the end of 30 years and would be ready for another complete renovation when the sixtieth year arrived. Cost, without paint, $5,000 for a home ready to fall to pieces. Does regular painting pay? As the old Dutch adage says:

"PAINT PAYS FOR ITSELF."

Query.—I have a quantity of old paint on hand. Can I use it for the first coat in repainting my barn?

Answer.—On no account should old paint which has become fat be used for priming either old or new work. Old paint in that condition is best used on a fence, brickwork or tinwork. If you value your barn sufficiently to paint it, do it the justice of a good job.

U. S. Invents Anti-Rust "Dope."

Incident to the war, the government has faced the problem that has so long proved baffling to commercial concerns of protecting iron and steel from rust. In an attempt to solve this federal specialists have perfected various forms of protective coatings. In this connection it may be pertinent to ask whether commercial uses will not be found also for the so-called "dopes" which the government has invented to be applied to airplane wings and which are possessed of valuable weather-resisting and fireproof qualities.

EFFECT OF COLOR UPON THE DURABILITY OF PAINT.

Property owners who may have under consideration the painting of dwellings and other structures should remember that more durable results are obtained when tinted paints are used. Permanent coloring materials which have been ground by machine into a high grade white paint base have the effect of preventing "chalking" and "checking," two defects which are often observed when white paints are used.

SIXTY-THREE "Y" MEN DECORATED

Chicago.—The Y. M. C. A. carried the Red Triangle into the camps and trenches abroad at a cost of 53 lives, a sacrifice proportionately one-quarter as great as that in the American army, according to a statement issued by the national war work council of the Y. M. C. A. Of these fatalities 35 were due to disease, and the remainder to shell-fire, bombs, gas-fever, drowning and wounds. Ten of these were women, one of whom was killed by shell fire and the others in a German air raid.

There were also 55 non-fatal casualties. These were due principally to machine gun fire, shell fire, and motor transport accidents. Numerous cases of slight wounds and gasings which were attended at dressing stations, but were not reported to headquarters, are not included.

These casualties occurred in a force which at no time exceeded 9,000 workers, of whom it is reckoned that more than one-half were never sent to the front, being employed in the hundreds of huts maintained throughout the training areas and the "leave areas."

Sixty-three "Y" workers were decorated, while in all more than 152 received official recognition for distinguished service. Thirteen of these were decorated with the Croix de Guerre, while 48 received other decorations. Of these, three received the Distinguished Service Cross, three the Order of St. Stanislaus, five the Italian Cavaliere del Corona, 38 the Italian War Cross, and one the French decoration of the Corps d'Armee. Seven were cited for the Croix de Guerre, and seven for other decorations, six commended for meritorious conduct, and twenty-nine received honorable mention in dispatches. Several units were cited in their entirety, those serving with the Third division being cited twice. More than a score more reported decorations have not yet been confirmed.

Not one of these men under thirty was fit for military duty, but the citations show that they carried on with the same courage and spirit that identified Americans throughout the war. These records show that they went over the top with the assaulting waves, that they exposed themselves under machine gun and shell fire to minister to the wounded, that they worked indefatigably as stretcher bearers, and that they drove ambulances into the midst of battle to rescue the wounded.

A New Shock for the British. London.—The American soldier's capacity for chocolate is a never-ending source of wonder to Britishers, a wonder that has just been given a new stimulus by a contract the Y. M. C. A. has closed to take over a plant and manufacture chocolates—300 tons of chocolates a month.

The best way we know of to avoid excitement is to live with in your income.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

FOR STATE SENATOR.

We are authorized to announce Mr. Jas. R. Garnett a Democratic candidate for the State Senate in the District composed of the counties of Adair, Barren and Metcalfe. His candidacy is subject to the action of the voters at the August primary.

TO PATRONS OF THE NEWS.

Any one indebted to the Adair Co. News is hereby notified to make no payments except to the undersigned or Mr. J. E. Murrell.

MRS. DAISY HAMLETT.

Owner and Publisher of The News.

It was understood by the Democrats of this county and also of Barren and Metcalfe, as we have been informed, that at the coming election it was Adair's time to furnish the candidate for the State Senate in said counties making up the district. In accordance with that understanding, Mr. J. R. Garnett, of this place, a few weeks ago, announced his candidacy. We were greatly surprised last week when we noticed in the Glasgow Times that a Metcalfe man had announced his candidacy. Certainly the Democrats in the counties of Barren and Metcalfe do not want to disregard the courtesy.

Rev. Boyce Taylor, of Murray, Ky., who violated an ordinance issued by the Board of Health and was fined $100, refused to pay, and last Thursday he was sent to jail for 100 days, to be released if he should come across with the money. The minister took the position that the civil authorities had no right to interfere with religious services.

It is said that Judge C. A. Hardin, of Harrodsburg, has made up his mind to become a candidate for Congress in the Eighth district, to succeed the late Harvey Helm, and that his announcement will appear in a few days.

Col. H. H. Denhardt, of Bowling Green, has announced his candidacy for Governor. His entrance make four candidates in the field. The other three are Black, Carroll and Rhea.

The league of nations covenant is about completed. It is expected that President Wilson will reach Washington before the 4th of March.

There is evidently an organized band of robbers in Louisville. The daily papers report from three to five robberies every morning.

From now until the August primary politics will be lively in Kentucky.

Gradyville.

We have a good prospect for a fine fruit crop this season.

Our grass, wheat and oats are coming on fine.

T. W. Dowell, of Campbells-ville, was in our city the first of last week.

Will Ed Hunter is on the market for a lot of good yearling colts.

Uncle Charlie Yates has one of the finest mule colts in this section.

James Keen and wife visited in the Stults community the first of the week.

Quite a number of our citizens attended quarterly court at Columbia last Friday and Saturday.

W. P. Flowers spent last week at Richard Shirley's, near Milltown, erecting an up-to-date chicken house.

Our Methodist brethren have recently completed a new fence around their church which adds greatly to the appearance of the building.

Quite a number of our citizens put in several days on the banks of the creeks fishing last week. They had good results.

L. B. Cain bought a number of stock hogs in this section last week at 13 1/2 cents per pound.

Our farmers are about ready for planting corn. Immediately after Easter the planting will be pushed to a finish, and they report their tobacco plants coming right along and will be ready for transplanting in due time. We take it from what we hear in regard to the crop that there will be over an average crop in this section this season.

W. C. Hill has rented property from Messrs. Blades & Rodgers. Mr. and Mrs. Hill will move to their new location in a few days.

Born, to the wife of E. R. Baker, on the 10th, a ten pound boy, James Edwards. Mother and child doing well.

Strong Hill sold last week to Cordie Wilson a house and lot in our town for the consideration of $1,000.00. Mr. Wilson and family have taken possession and are now citizens of our town. Mr. Hill has not decided at the present where he will locate.

A good woman has gone. Mrs.

Georgia Dudley died on the 6th with pneumonia fever in her 65th year. She had lived a devoted christian life and when the end came she was ready. She was the mother of thirteen children and all living and attended the funeral. This is the first death in the family. Her funeral was preached by her pastor, Rev. D. L. Vance, in the presence of a large audience of sorrowing relatives and friends. The remains were interred in the Rodgers grave yard.

Remember Easter services at Union. Every body invited to attend.

A great many of our people heard a noise something similar to thunder last Thursday about the noon hour. On investigation it was found to be an airplane passing over. The machine was very high, but was seen by a number of different people. This was the first one that has ever passed over this town.

SAYS WONDERFUL CHANGE EVIDENT.

"My Wife's a Different Woman, Since Using Trutona," Farmer Declares.

Louisville, Ky., Apr., 14. "Trutona has made a different woman of my wife," W. M. Brown, a well-known farmer of O'Bannon, Ky., near Louisville, said recently to the Trutona expert.

"She was in pretty bad shape when she began Trutona treatment," Mr. Brown continued, "and had been for a month when she had the 'flu.' She was nervous and felt tired and worn out all the time. She had no appetite and the little food that she forced did not agree with her. What she did eat soured on her stomach. She suffered from pains in her head, limbs, body and stomach. Her stomach was full of gas and she was constipated. She was depressed and couldn't sleep. She was unable to attend to her household duties.

"I repeat that Trutona has made a different woman of my wife. She now has a good appetite and her food agrees with her. Her former strength has returned. The pains in her head, stomach and limbs have disappeared. The gas has disappeared from her stomach and the constipation has been relieved. The depressed melancholy feeling has disappeared. She is a woman made over again, and is now able to do all her household work without suffering fatigue. We think your medicine is wonderful.

Trutona is winning hundreds of new friends daily in Louisville and vicinity. Its popularity is increasing by leaps and bounds. Its tremendous success locally in so short a time is due entirely to the fact that it is a medicine of exceptional merit for the treatment of catarrhal affections of the stomach, liver and kidneys, nervousness, depression of spirits, wakefulness and the like. Its use by persons recovering from pneumonia, influenza and hard colds seldom fails to bring the most gratifying results.

Trutona, the perfect tonic, is now being introduced and explained in Columbia at the Paull Drug Company.

War Council on Retirement Announces Cash and Supplies Contributed.

WORKERS WILL "CARRY ON."

Five Big Societies in World Wide Plan.
H. P. Davison Heads International American Red Cross Commission.
Dr. Livingston Farrand Permanent Leader of Peace Organization.

Washington.—(Special.)—Henry P. Davison as chairman issues the following statement on behalf of the War Council of the American Red Cross:

"To the American People:

"The War Council of the American Red Cross appointed by President Wilson on May 10, 1917, to carry on the work of the American Red Cross during the war, at their request and by vote of the Central Committee, ceased at midnight, February 28.

"Immediately the armistice was signed the War Council instituted studies to determine when the strictly war work of the organization would have been sufficiently matured to enable the direction of affairs to be resumed by the permanent staff. Henry P. Davison, being in Paris when the armistice was signed, summoned a conference there of the heads of all the Red Cross Commissions in Europe to canvass the situation. After considering all the factors it was concluded to make the transition on March 1. The very fortunate choice of Dr. Livingston Farrand as the new chairman of the Central Committee, and thereby the permanent chief executive of the Red Cross, makes possible the consummation of this plan under the most favorable conditions.

Accounts Audited by War Department.

"Detailed reports to Congress and a complete audit of its accounts by the War Department will constitute the final record of Red Cross activity during the war. Although it has been the rule to make public all expenditures when authorized and to give detailed information relative to all work undertaken, the War Council in turning over its responsibilities to Dr. Farrand and his associates desire to give a brief resume of Red Cross war time activities to the American people, to whom the Red Cross belongs, and whose generous contributions have made possible all that has been accomplished.

"During the past nearly twenty-one months the American people have given in cash and supplies to the American Red Cross more than $400,000,000. No value can be placed upon the contributions of service which have been given without stint and oftentimes at great sacrifice by millions of our people.

"The effort of the American Red Cross in this war has constituted by far the largest voluntary gifts of money, of hand and heart, ever contributed purely for the relief of human suffering. Through the Red Cross the heart and spirit of the whole American people have been mobilized to take care of our own, to relieve the misery incident to the war, and also to reveal to the world the supreme ideals of our national life.

"Everyone who has had any part in this war effort of the Red Cross is entitled to congratulate himself. No thanks from anyone could be equal in value to the self satisfaction everyone should feel for the part taken. Fully 8,000,000 American women have exerted themselves in Red Cross service.

Has Over 17,000,000 Adult Members.

"When we entered the war the American Red Cross had about 500,000 members. Today, as the result of the recent Christmas membership Roll Call, there are upwards of 17,000,000 full paid members outside of the members of the Junior Red Cross, numbering perhaps 9,000,000 school children additional.

"The chief effort of the Red Cross during the war has been to care for our men in service and to aid our army and navy wherever the Red Cross may be called on to assist. As to this phase of the work Surgeon General Ireland of the U. S. Army recently said: 'The Red Cross has been an enterprise as vast as the war itself. From the beginning it has done those things which the Army Medical Corps wanted done, but could not do itself.'

"The Red Cross endeavor in France has naturally been upon an exceptionally large scale where service has been rendered to the American Army and to the French Army and the French people as well, the latter particularly during the trying period when the Allied World was waiting for the American Army to arise in force and power. Hospital emergency service for our army in France has greatly diminished, but the Red Cross is still being called upon for service upon a large scale in the great base hospitals, where thousands of American sick and wounded are still receiving attention. At these hospitals the Red Cross supplies huts and facilities for the amusement and recreation of the men as they become convalescent. Our Army of Occupation in Germany was followed with Medical units prepared to render the same emergency aid and supply service which was the primary business of the Red Cross during hostilities. The Army Canteen service along the lines of travel has actually increased since the armistice. "As for work among the French people, now that hostilities have ceased, the French themselves naturally prefer as far as possible to provide for their own. It has accordingly been determined that the guiding principle of Red Cross policy in France henceforth shall be to have punctilious regard to its every responsibility, but to direct its efforts primarily to assisting French relief societies. The liberated and devastated regions of France have been divided by the government into small districts, each officially assigned to a designated French relief organization.

"The American Red Cross work in France was initiated by a commission of eighteen men who landed on French shores June 13, 1917. Since then some 9,000 persons have been upon the rolls in France, of whom 7,000 were actively engaged when the armistice was signed. An indication of the present scale of the work will be obtained from the fact that the services of 6,000 persons are still required.

"Our American Expeditionary Force having largely evacuated England, the activities of the Red Cross Commission there are naturally upon a diminishing scale period. Active operations are still in progress in Archangel and Siberia.

"The work in Italy has been almost entirely on behalf of the civilian population of that country. In the critical hours of Italy's struggle the American people, through their Red Cross, sent a practical message of sympathy and relief, for which the government and people of Italy have never ceased to express their gratitude.

Supplies and Personnel to Near East.

"The occasion for such concentration of effort in Italy, England, Belgium and even in France having naturally and normally diminished, it has been possible to divert supplies and personnel in large measure to the aid of those people in the Near East who have hitherto been inaccessible to outside assistance, but whose sufferings have been upon an appalling scale. The needs of these peoples are so vast that government alone can meet them, but the American Red Cross is making an effort to relieve immediately the more acute distress.

"An extensive group of American workers has been dispatched to carry vitally needed supplies, and to work this winter in the various Balkan countries. In order to co-ordinate their activities, a Balkan commission has been established, with headquarters at Rome, Italy, from which point alone all the Balkan centers can be reached promptly.

"A commission has just reached Poland with doctors and nurses, medical supplies, and food for sick children and invalids. An American Red Cross Commission has also been appointed to aid in relieving the suffering of Russian prisoners still confined in German prison camps.

"An important commission is still working in Palestine. Through the war special co-operation has been given to the Armenian and Syrian Relief Commission, which was the only agency able to carry relief in the interior of Turkish dominions.

Red Cross Will Continue.

"Red Cross effort is thus far flung. It will continue to be so. But the movement represented by this work has likewise assumed an intimate place in the daily life of our people at home. The army of workers which has been recruited and trained during the war must not be demobilized. All our experience in the war shows clearly that there is an unlimited field for service of the kind which can be performed with peculiar effectiveness by the Red Cross. What its future tasks may be it is yet impossible to forecast. We know that so long as there is an American army in the field the Red Cross will have a special function to perform.

"Nothing could be of greater importance to the American Red Cross than the plans just set in motion by the five great Red Cross societies of the world to develop a program of extended activities in the interest of humanity. The conception involves not alone efforts to relieve human suffering, but to prevent it; not alone a movement by the people of an individual nation, but an attempt to arouse all people to a sense of their responsibility for the welfare of their fellow beings throughout the world. It is a program both ideal and practical. Ideal in that its supreme aim is nothing less than veritable 'Peace on earth good will to men,' and practical in that it seeks to take means and measures which are actually available and make them effective in meeting without delay the crisis which is daily recurrent in the lives of all peoples.

"For accomplishing its mission in the years of peace which must lie ahead of us the Red Cross will require the ablest possible leadership, and must enjoy the continued support, sympathy, and participation in its work of the whole American people. It is particularly fortunate that such a man as Dr. Livingston Farrand should have been selected as the permanent head of the organization. The unstinted fashion in which all our people gave of themselves throughout the war is the best assurance that our Red Cross will continue to receive that co-operation which will make its work a source of pride and inspiration to every American.

Mr. Davison, as chairman of the International Commission of the American Red Cross, has undertaken to represent the American Red Cross in the preparation of the program for extended Red Cross activities, and will spend the next several months in Europe in consultation with other Red Cross societies for that purpose.

THE WAR COUNCIL OF THE AMERICAN RED CROSS.

METHODISTS CHANGE DATE

CAMPAIGN FOR $35,000,000 IN M. E. CHURCH, SOUTH, CENTENARY DRIVE WILL BE HELD MAY 18-25.

The date for the Methodist Centenary financial campaign has changed from April 27-May 4 to May 18-25, official announcement of which is being made throughout the length and breadth of Methodism today. Several weeks ago it was found necessary to change the April date in order not to interfere with the Government plans for the forthcoming Victory Loan Drive. The selection of another date has been held in abeyance pending the decision from Washington which was forwarded headquarters of the M. E. Church, South, recently.

The change in this date is of wide import to all Methodists who are, at this time, lining up plans of definite action regarding their part as individuals in the campaign. Dr. W. B. Beauchamp, Secretary of the Centenary Commission, stated today that he and other Centenary workers at headquarters have, through Secretary Carter Glass, pledged the loyal support of all Southern Methodists to the government at this crucial hour and that in setting May 18-25 as a date for the Centenary drive, he knows he will have the immediate and hearty co-operation of all conference secretaries, directors, field representatives and all workers connected with the campaign.

The Methodist Centenary financial campaign is the largest religious campaign undertaken in the history of the world. One hundred and fifteen million dollars is the goal set—Southern Methodists pledging themselves to raise thirty-five million of that sum.

CHINA HAS A VERY IMPORTANT ROLE

PRACTICALLY ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY THOUSAND COOLIES SENT TO FRANCE.

What optimist a generation ago would have thought that backward China would have a hand in the settlement of a world war? But China is having a very important role in the great war that is just being brought to a close. Not as soldiers—fighting men—but as laborers behind the front line trenches. And just so many allied troops have been released for other duties. Practically one hundred and fifty thousand of these coolies have been transported by way of the Suez to France. This work has been done under the direction of the British Government and Church Missionaries. Among these missionaries are many of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which is just finishing the details of its campaign May 18-25 to secure $35,000,000 to further work of the kind that is being done in France and other places.

BANDING TOGETHER TO SPREAD GOSPEL

Nashville, Tenn.—One hundred and forty thousand Southern Methodists have signified their determination to pray for the success of the missionary work of the M. E. Church, South, and for the spread of Christianity throughout the world. These people have not only decided to do this, but have banded together in a league known as the Fellowship of Intercession, each signing a small card which it is thought will make the cause for which they pray more definite in the minds of the signers of the cards.

Dr. S. A. Neblett, secretary of the Department of Intercession of the denomination, stated to a reporter that the way in which the prayer cards were coming in was an inspiration. From two thousand to five thousand of these are opened in the mail every morning, the number of 140,000 representing the complete total up to date.

FIVE HUNDRED WOMEN WANTED

Nashville, Tenn.—Five hundred young women are wanted at once by the Women's Missionary Council of the M. E. Church, South. They are wanted for services and missionaries of the church in both the home and foreign fields and the best type of womanhood is asked for. Women to whom the desire to serve has come very keenly, women whom the spirit of the hour has gripped earnestly, this is the type with whom the church wishes to make connection for various forms of missionary endeavor.

The particular forms of missionary work open to the young women of the South are in the medical, evangelistic and educational departments in the mission fields. One hundred and fifty are wanted as evangelists and deaconesses; two hundred and fifty are wanted as teachers and one hundred are wanted as doctors and nurses. The call has particularly gone out for young women of college education in order that they may be able to grasp quickly the leadership in the work which the church needs.

The calling of these young women is made possible through the Centenary of the church which is being observed this year. A fund of $35,000,000 will be raised soon, and this money will make possible the sending of many missionaries to Africa, Japan, China, Brazil, Mexico, Cuba, Korea and in the home field.

A Cold Blooded Business Proposition"

YOU'VE heard people say it.

"The American public are tired of patriotism now that the war is over. The only thing that will appeal to them is a cold-blooded business proposition."

All right! Let's see what kind of a cold-blooded proposition this is.

Sixty-five thousand Americans went to France and "invested" all they had in Liberty—and were killed before their "dividends" came due.

THAT was a "cold-blooded business proposition."

Two million other Americans went to France, too, and willingly offered to get in on the same "investment." And they knew they'd never "clip a coupon."

THAT was a "cold-blooded business proposition."

Thirty million other Americans here at home got in on that "investment"—saved and went without things for a year and a half to do it.

THAT was a "cold-blooded business proposition."

Well—we've still got a job to finish. And we're still Americans. Do you believe we're not going to do it in the old American way?

The only "business proposition" we're interested in just now is the proposition to see the job through right—to a finish—with whatever American dollars and whatever American energy it may take.

That may be a "cold-blooded business proposition."

Some people call it patriotism.
